Tabarrus Alston shot a crack head with a 9mm handgun he had just purchased, in the foot because they owed him money three days before a murder that occurred on Pinkston St.. This individual went to the hospital for treatment and White believes that this individual took out warrants on Tabarrus. Three days later Eric Sharpe, Tabarrus Alston and the Jamaican came to a house that White was selling crack at. White saw Alston with the same 9mm when they pulled up at the residence. All three individuals came over and stayed around one hour. All three individuals left and a couple hours later White found out that they had found the Jamaican, "Toney" dead. White stated that they didn't see Alston for approximately two months later. White stated that later while he and Tabarrus were in jail together he told Tabarrus that he knew that Tabarrus had shot "Toney". White said that Tabarrus just laughed.

White stated that in 1990, 1991, or 1992 a Mr. Boyd, the owner of a store just off of I-85, the Wise Exit, was robbed and killed. White stated that Kelvin Alexander was arrested and convicted for the murder of Boyd. White stated that Alexander didn't kill Boyd and that he knew who did. White stated that on the day of the murder an individual he knew as John Terry, AKA "J-Money", Chris Terry's brother, stole a white vehicle belonging to Rico Hope from Beacon Light Apts.. White stated that Terry was high on crack at the time. White stated that Terry stayed gone for approximately two weeks. When Terry came back to Henderson Terry told White that he had robbed and shot Boyd. Terry then went to Maryland and stayed for the two weeks. White stated that Terry told him that he had thrown the weapon, used in the murder out the window as he got back onto I-85 North. After learning this, White, John Terry and one of Terry's brother's went back to the area where Terry had thrown the weapon out and retrieved the weapon. White stated that they brought the gun back to Henderson and Terry kept it at his residence. White stated that it was a 22 cal. Rifle. He stated that it had a short barrel. He also stated that two months later White got into an argument with another individual at Beacon Light Apts.. While arguing Terry went into his apartment and brought the same 22 cal. Rifle out of his residence and told White to shoot the individual he was arguing with. White didn't use the weapon. White stated that Terry was currently serving time in DOC for an armed robbery. White also stated that Alexander was appealing his verdict.
